Workmen On Tunnel Job Racing Time

Bonus And Wagers With Men On Other Contracts Is Hastening Work Here

There's no loafing on the job for the men employed on the Colorado river aqueduct tunnel now being burrowed under Grand View avenue in Sierra Madre—the Shea Company's digging against time under their contract. In consequence each of the two daily shifts is working on a bonus basis, and side bets between the men themselves are plentiful.

"Slim" Mathews, the "walker" on the local crew, is reported by his pals as literally camping at the tunnel portal day and night. Reason—if the Sierra Madre diggers "hole through" before the Shea men at Parker dam division tunnel do, "Slim" wins a twelve dollar hat from Martin S. Boss, who's running the Parker job. Boss started the ball rolling here, until Shea himself took over the reins.

According to the official report tabulated in the Aqueduct News, the dope on the local link from September 15 to October 15 is as follows: With a total of 6,450 feet to be dug, the twenty-one shifts employed until that date had averaged 13 feet per shift, to go 273 feet westward. However, since then the crews have raised their average somewhat, and at present the big bore is around 600 feet in. Shifts have gone in as far as 27 feet at a crack—which with a $3 a foot bonus for every foot over normal, is not to be sneezed at.

To anyone going under for the first time, the tunnel job borders slightly on the exciting—which probably is laughable to the muckers, who have had mine and underwater experience which makes a job such as this soft. But to anybody who is used to going into the ground via subway stairs, or in a mahogany paneled elevator, it's a different story.

At first, things are pretty noisy. The conveyor machinery which carts the dirt from the cars up into the hopper, isn't run on a noiseless principle, and the compressor bangs on your eardrums, too. Once inside most all you can hear, while the cars are stalled anyhow, is the whoosh of air being forced through the big canvas pipe for ventilation. Surprisingly the air smells fresh and good, and the working conditions are not meat for a Sinclair novel.

Everything isn't smooth sailing. Something goes wrong most any time. Dirt spills from the cars, and gets under the wheels and derails the whole works. Gears go haywire. But the men keep hitting the ball, and the work clicks forward.

Down at the end of the tunnel the mucker sits, with its efficient clawnose ready for another try at the dead wall of earth ahead, while half a dozen men work in a unit, swinging the semi-circular iron girders in place, sledging the wooden braces into position—all precision work, regulated to a fraction of an inch by plumb level.

The electric train line itself is interesting. Although plenty sturdy, the entire system is extremely portable. The California type switches lay on top of the main track, and are dragged along as needed by the engine.

Grammar School To Present An Indian Pageant November 8

Clark Brown, well known authority on Indian folklore, will be at the local grammar school every day next week, to teach the boys and girls as well as train them for the "Friendly Indians" organization sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. This organization is a character building organization, and includes all boys and girls who are too young for the Boy Scouts or Campfire Girls organizations.

Mr. Brown will coach the children for an Indian pageant, which will be presented in the school auditorium on the evening of November 8th. At the end of this week children wishing to take part, will be selected to appear in the pageant, and their names and full details will appear in next week's NEWS.

To Show Dances And Pictures Of Japan At Parish House

Presenting an unusual program, the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension, will offer a Japanese entertainment tomorrow, (Saturday) evening at 7:30 at the Parish House. A dessert, starts off the evening followed by a Japanese travel film, loaned to the Guild through the kindness of friends of Dr. and Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow. Japanese dances by girls in their native costume will also be a feature of the evening. This entertainment is opened to the public and everyone is invited to attend, as the fee is nominal.

Many Charges Piling Up On Bank Bandit

A few days more of anxious waiting behind the walls of the County Jail have been granted Robert Franklin Green, who was to have appeared in Los Angeles superior court Wednesday on charges of assault to kill and kidnaping in connection with the 1932 holdup of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank.

Ironically enough, the stay of proceedings in court, has caused the case to be postponed. Meanwhile a substantial defense may be formulated. The hearing was originally set for Monday, postponed until Wednesday, and according to Chief of Police Gordon McMillan, a third date has not yet been chosen by the court.

Nine Prize Winners At Art Exhibit

Reception At Showing Of State Fair Pictures Attracts Fine Crowd

By Vernon Jay Morse

The Little Gallery's Winter season of exhibitors was inaugurated Wednesday evening when many of Sierra Madre's artists and art lovers and the usual out-of-town visitors gathered to enjoy the current show, the California State Fair paintings including nine award and honorable mention prizes.

It was a thoroughly interested group, another case of "come early and leave late" and the Little Gallery was thronged during the whole evening.

Mrs. Alfred James Dewey, Mrs. Douglas Williams, Miss Jean Key and Mrs. Vernon Morse were in charge of the various duties of entertainment and the writer heard many a compliment for their efficient work.

The Little Gallery is proud and happy that it can attract the kind of a crowd which made Wednesday evening such a successful opening and all of us who do the work of arranging, hanging and entertaining feel that the reward was well worth the effort.

Thank you, Sierra Madre, you can be depended upon to support your worthwhile enterprises.

Fire Department's Daddy To Observe His 75th Birthday

D. J. Millard will celebrate his 75th birthday Wednesday at his Windsor Lane home here. An old time westerner, Mr. Millard has lived in Sierra Madre for nearly 24 years, having owned the Sierra Madre Bakery for some fifteen years and been prominent in civic affairs. Before coming here he was a justice of the peace in New Mexico.

"I'm really responsible for the founding of the volunteer fire department," Mr. Millard chuckles, "because it was my bakery that burned down and started my son Charles and other boys canvassing the town for funds for a down payment on the American-La France pumper. They were the good old days, though."

His son, Charles W. Millard, now lives in Allerton, Iowa, and in writing him birthday greetings, he stated, "We back here get a lot of enjoyment out of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS which you send us every week, and hope to be in good old sunny California some day again—only place in the world!"

Dinner Cooked And Served By Men Will Feature Posy Show

On Friday afternoon and evening, November 8th, the Women's Society of the Congregational Church will revive one of its old time gift and apron sales, centered in a flower show. Cooked foods and an always popular white elephant table will also be featured. Mrs. George Lehner will have charge of the latter, and please that everyone interested please look over their discarded possessions for her table.

Aprons, large and small, will be in charge of Mrs. William Adwell, and Mrs. John Spoelstra. Cooked foods are in charge of Mrs. Hortense Hill assisted by Mrs. P. W. Senour. Gifts and novelties will be in the hands of Mrs. Ralph Lord and Mrs. H. B. Ayers.

Men of the church are taking as active part in preparations for the event by organizing a wait crew of competent chefs and waiters to prepare and serve a popular priced dinner. Chairman C. L. Twycross has selected able assistant for all departments to make the dinner a complete success.

Greater Fire Protection Guaranteed

Men Of Local Department To Bunk At Station House During Wind Storms

Hereafter the city will have even greater fire protection on nights when the wind is on a dangerous rampage. The volunteer firemen Friday night voted to stand by at the station house whenever it appears that Sierra Madre is in for a tree-bending gale, and all members possible will sleep there on immediate call.

"In the past," Fire Chief W. D. Richards stated, "the men have been contacted by telephone when the wind rose so high that the sound of the fire siren was drowned out. But that method is somewhat faulty due to the danger of phone lines blowing down, or the wires becoming too crowded for the switchboard to handle speedily."

"So far it has been only through sheer good luck that Sierra Madre has escaped such destructive fires as have razed the Altadena and Whittier Hills and the Malibu region. If a big fire ever gets started here during a windstorm—it'll be just too bad. That means that the safety of the community lies in the hands of the residents."

"Be careful with fire! When the wind starts blowing, make sure that all of your gas pilot lights are turned off, that every ash in the incinerator or dump heap is soaked dead out."

P. R. Penn, manager of the Baldwin Avenue Safeway store, visited the scene of the Altadena disaster on Sunday and brought home a story that should stand as a grim warning to those Sierra Madreans who continue to disregard the extreme danger lurking in Southern California mountain areas such as this.

"The devastation over there," Penn told us, "is unbelievable if you haven't actually seen it with your own eyes. Most people reading newspaper accounts of such things seem not to fully comprehend how fast these fires move and how deadly destructive they are."

"The thing that impressed me most was the terrible difference between the luxurious, beautiful natural foothill growth—and the desolate, charred barrenness of today. Such a sight brings strongly home the need for the continuous precaution on the part of every Sierra Madrean and foothill resident."

Astounding Jump In State Costs Is Causing Real Alarm

California governmental officials and department heads will meet in Los Angeles with representative business men from all sections of the State on November 7 and 8 to consider urgent problems relating to governmental expenditure and taxation. The call for the conference, which will be held in conjunction with the tenth annual meeting of the California State Chamber of Commerce, has been issued by Frederick J. Koster, Chairman of the State Chamber Committee on Government Expenditures and Taxation.

"The facts of our present situation speak for themselves," Mr. Koster said in a statement accompanying the announcement of the forthcoming conference. "Stated briefly and simply, the people of California will pay between $75,000,000 and $600,000,000 in total taxes this year; 1914 taxes amounted to but $95,000,000. The 1935 Legislature appropriated $58,000,000 greater expenditures than it provided in revenues, in spite of the fact that some $97,000,000 in new taxes were enacted. Furthermore, there is a carry-over deficit of $21,000,000 from the previous biennium."

These and other problems of State finance will be discussed in detail at the tax committee meeting of the State Chamber.

18th Amendment Is Still In Effect For Unemployed

Unemployed now on relief rolls either must remain strictly "on the water wagon," or their budgets will be sharply curtailed or altogether cut off, according to Rex Thomson, superintendent of county charities. Thomson states that liquor is not an essential of life, and that in consequence a strict watch will be kept for relief recipients purchasing liquor.

"When the department receives a report that one of its clients has been purchasing intoxicating liquor, it is an indication that the person's relief budget exceeds the amount needed, or the person has some outside income," Thomson declares. "In either event the department is empowered by law to reduce the amount of aid furnished, or to close the case entirely."

Sierra Madre Junior Forum Pioneer Move

Sierra Madre's Junior Forum which this week was definitely promised a charter upon organization and election of officers by the National Youth Administration, will be a pioneer movement—the first organization of its kind to be sponsored by the new youth bureau.

The first meeting, at which time permanent organization will be effected, is to be held early this month. At that time a well known leader in the youth movement will address the gathering, and plans for the future announced.

Church Calls For Vote On War, Peace

Members of the Sierra Madre Congregational church and others of the Christian Faith may cast their ballots in a Nation-wide plebiscite on war and peace being conducted by the Council for Social Action of the Congregational and other Christian churches on November 10, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, pastor of the Congregational church.

"Every person over 15 years of age in the parish is asked to vote, regardless of whether he is a member of the church. Rev. Pritchard said: 'While it is true that certain agencies have tried in the past to find the war sentiment among students, ministers and other groups, this is the first time a Christian church body has sought to discover the mind of its constituents on the issues of international conflict.'

Peace plebiscite ballots will be started in circulation by the Congregational Church Sunday for the purpose of securing the community's views on the subject of war and peace. Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard states that the vote is open to every Sierra Madrean regardless of church affiliation.

"This is not a simple ballot requiring only a hasty glance; we are not asking the easy question: Are you for peace or war?" The vote is on the following five questions: I believe as a Christian I should bear arms or otherwise support—

1. Any war which the United States government may declare.
2. Any war declared by the United States government against an internationally recognized aggressor.
3. Only a war declared by the United States government after making utmost use of every agency for peace.
4. Only a war in which United States territory has been invaded.
5. No war which the United States government may declare."

The ballot also contains a section in which those casting ballots may indicate whether they favor membership in the League of Nations, National isolation, larger army and navy, government munitions control, abolition of compulsory military training, and more equal distribution of world resources and markets.

Deposit $90,000 For LA Power Line Right-Of-Way Strip

Now in possession of a 120-foot strip of land between the county line and Irwindale avenue in Azusa, Los Angeles this week deposited $90,000 in superior court to clinch necessary rights-of-way. Construction on that link of the 275,000-volt Boulder Dam transmission line is expected soon.

You've Won A Prize If You Find Your Name

Be sure to read THE NEWS advertisements this week!

Read them more carefully than usual—your own name may be one of the lucky ones hidden among the advertisements.

And if it is, well—two tickets to the Raymond Theatre in Pasadena are yours for the asking. (If you find the name of a friend, perhaps you can use a little diplomacy and see that you get in on the theatre party.) The prize tickets may be secured at THE NEWS office.

Real Social Security Is Started Here

Martin Tells Forum State First To Act For Unemployment Insurance

California leads the Nation in the matter of providing unemployment insurance and the fund to be created under operation of the law adopted by the last Legislature will be sufficient by 1937 to provide for the needs of as many unemployed citizens as there are now in the State, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin told the Sierra Madre Forum at its meeting in the City Hall Tuesday evening.

Before the largest Forum attendance in some time, Mr. Martin was discussing legislation generally and the State's social welfare program particularly. He held the rapt attention of his listeners and was given a splendid reception.

"I mean to say," said Mr. Martin with respect to the unemployment insurance fund as of 1937, "that there will be no occasion for the State or National governments then to carry persons on relief. The unemployed will be relieved of having to resort to the dole or relief and the taxpayers will be relieved of the responsibility of providing it."

The law becomes operative on the first of the year. Employed persons will be assessed one per cent of their earnings. Their employers will contribute the equivalent of 3 per cent. The fund will be collected and administered by the State."

Reviewing the State's law on old age relief, Mr. Martin said it was the intent of his bill on the subject, and of the author of several similar bills, to raise

Ladies Nite Is Success For Kiwanis

Scavenger Hunt, Progressive Dinner, Hard Times Costumes, Highlight Party

Dressed in patched and tattered costumes befitting the "Hard-Times" motif of the party, Kiwanis club members and their wives Tuesday night joyously participated in a progressive dinner, then madly scrambled into their cars for the climaxing event of the evening—a scavenger hunt arranged by Entertainment Chairman Harry Lange.

At the outset the club members and their wives had soup and salad at the Woman's Clubhouse. Then they went to Mrs. Preston's Coffee Shop for the mid courses, and wound up at Henry's Coffee Shop for coffee and dessert. William Midgough, usually a staid, druggist and diligent worker, showed some sort of a flare for humor when he served tea and doughnuts in a surprising manner.

"Charley" Klunk was awarded the prize for being the most disreputable looking man present. He commented, "Shucks! I'm just wearing my everyday clothes." Mrs. Waverly Pratt was the "dowdiest woman," and made no comment.

The scavenger hunt climaxed the evening officially anyway. Couples were split up on Harry Lange's theory that a scavenger hunt is hard enough without having your own wife bossing you from the back seat. Doctor John Woehler and Mrs. James Heasley were the winners, after a tough session nipping hairs from a cow-tail. Suspiciously, Mrs. Harry (Chairman) Lange, and Clarence (Club President) Huntsinger took second honors.

Due to the arrival of his brand new baby girl, Roy Pickett, and Mrs. Pickett were unable to attend the party. So entertainment was furnished by Billy Setchel, a well-known eastern radio entertainer, who was the guest of Harold Roberts. Gustave Rihard was accompanist.

Legion's Benefit Dance Frolic Will Be Staged Nov. 9th

Modern dance music furnished by a popular 10-piece orchestra will live the American Legion and Auxiliary's annual Armistice Frolic to be held at the Woman's Club House next Saturday night, November 9. For those who do not wish to dance there will be bridge, 500, and other card games in progress.

Post Commander Russell Lovejoy in urging the public to come to the party, states, "This one annual affair is sponsored by the Legion and Auxiliary solely for the benefit of Sierra Madre's disabled veterans and their families. It is the only benefit purely of a local interest which we sponsor during the year. . . And from the entertainment standpoint alone, everyone, young and old alike, will find themselves amply repaid for the small admission charge." Mrs. Ornelia Stiman is in charge of the Auxiliary's arrangements.

ORGANIZING FOR DRIVE OF THE RED CROSS

In two ways local leaders of the Sierra Madre Red Cross chapter this week revealed the organization "works seven hard days a week" rather than just during disasters.

Under the leadership of Louis de S. Fuller a force of field captains was enlisted for work during the annual membership drive beginning Armistice Day. These young men and women will each cover a district during the intensive campaign to be conducted this year.

The second activity of the local chapter relates to the National Home Inspection campaign, conducted in an effort to reduce the great number of accidents occurring each year in homes and farms. This campaign will be handled through co-operation of school children and parents, who will be asked to go through their homes and check existing hazards against a prepared list of dangers. In this connection the Red Cross stresses the fact that more than one-third of all fatal accidents and nearly half of all accidental injuries are sustained in and about the home.

Construction In Southland Up 500 Pct.

Sierra Madre Well Up Among Cities Showing Big Building Gain

With building permits in cities throughout the county up from 100 to 500 percent over a comparable nine months period of last year, F.H.A. officials express confidence that a $100,000,000 building campaign will be assured by the first of the year. At present the total is $51,578,580 as compared with $25,559,805 up until October 1, 1934.

Sierra Madre stands well up on the list of Southern California communities, with her nine months' building permit total of $82,775—over last year's $60,431. These figures compare very favorably with every other Southern California city, on the basis of population.

"Such a condition," states F. W. Marlow, district director of the F.H.A., "is concrete evidence of continued and profitable activity for the building trades industry, of a new confidence in property investment and property values in the minds of the people of the Southland. . . It must be influencing very definitely the return of substantial purchasing power which is bringing improved business conditions to our stores and business establishments."

Vandal Destroys Trail Warnings; Faces Prison Term

Some persons unknown, with a distorted sense of humor and perhaps ignorant of the fact that he was committing a Federal offense, is being sought by Department of Agriculture investigators today for having destroyed and defaced every fire warning and trail direction sign on the trail between Mt. Wilson and Red Box Canyon, back of this city.

Such an offense, according to Dan Tracy, forest guard stationed here, is punishable by a $500 fine or a year in prison. Also, there is a standing reward of from $25 to $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of such violators.

Goblins Usher In New Members Of The Junior Womens Club

Grimacing goblins and wailing witches ushered in the new members of the Sierra Madre Junior Woman's Club Wednesday evening, when the organization held its annual initiation. Following the formal ceremony attended by club members and neophytes, a gala dance and party was held to which escorts were invited.

Miss Evelyn Solury and Miss Ruth Grant who were in charge of the affair, created a real Halloween background with black cats and skeletons, and saw to it that guests were served plentifully with cider and doughnuts. Miss Angie PerLee conducted the formal initiation, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Steinberger played chaperone for the party.

General Motors To Build $2,500,000 Auto Plant Near L.A.

The General Motors Corporation has notified the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that it has practically closed a deal for a site within six miles of the center of Los Angeles upon which it will shortly begin the erection of a $2,500,000 assembly plant at which it proposes to turn out between 40,000 and 50,000 of three of its leading cars annually. The plant is to be in operation by April 1, 1936.

Adopt Float Design For City's Entry

Artist Plans Sierra Madre Display With An Eye To Color Profusion

The beautiful design for the "Wistaria Town" float—Sierra Madre's entry in the Tournament of Roses, submitted by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James Dewey, was enthusiastically adopted by the float committee at a meeting in the City Hall on Monday evening. In addition to the many thousands of sweet pea and purple and lavender stock blooms originally estimated as necessary to decorate the city's entry, the design calls for thousands of blue and purple flowers such as stocks, heliotrope, delphinium, bachelor buttons, rainbow asters and larkspur, yellow calendulas, roses and chrysanthemums and white carnations, larkspur, sweet peas, stocks, snapdragons and roses.

These are the flowers most abundant here in winter, the Deweys were told at a conference with Mrs. Jessie Ward Russell and other horticultural experts and the color scheme accordingly was arranged to provide vivid contrasts.

In a general way the float represents the city's great wistaria vine growing over the pergola at the east entrance to the Fennel estate, where the annual Wistaria Fete is held, with the Sierra Madre Mountains in the background. Four figures on the float, to be impersonated by young women of the city, will represent health and culture, characteristics of the town in addition to the wistaria.

The committee chairman, L. R. Goshorn, was directed to appoint a committee of three to arrange for decoration of the float and the gathering of flowers and necessary materials and given authority to designate such other committees as may be found necessary in preparing the entry for its appearance at the starting point of the parade.

This committee consists of Mrs. Fletcher White, president of the Woman's Club; Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the public school, and Alfred James Dewey, one of the great artists of the West.

The selection of the young women to adorn the float will be left to a committee consisting of two artists outside of Sierra Madre and the chairman of the parade committee of the Rose Tournament Association. They will make their selection after viewing the girls nominated. The time and place for making the selections will be determined later, as will the manner of making nominations.

The size of the float was tentatively fixed as 12 feet in height and 24 feet in length, though the committee has reason to believe that sufficient flowers will be available to make possible a considerably longer and more imposing entry. This can only be decided after it is known, at least in a general way, how many people are growing flowers that will be available for use.

Many home gardeners have indicated that might be expected of them through THE NEWS and the committee renews its request that everyone growing flowers will advise THE NEWS the sort of flowers they are growing and the approximate number of feet or plants of each variety.

WPA Okay Given Churchill Road Paving Project

Word was received by City Business Manager Myers late yesterday afternoon that the Churchill Road paving projects, including the improvement of several streets in the district of Vista Circle, has been approved by the Works Progress Administration and that funds totalling $5,172 will be available in the immediate future.

This information sheds a favorable light on the probability of prompt acceptance of the other two projects awaiting WPA approval. The Marlborough Terrace residents pledged sponsorship of the project and petitioned the Council to apply for Federal aid several months ago.

Ranger Kaye Puts Federal Finger On Arson Suspect

Following an investigation by Major John F. Kaye, district ranger of the Angelus National Forest stationed here, two men were arrested by Federal authorities this week on suspicion of having started the fierce Kegel Canyon fire which broke out last Tuesday.

Denying guilt in the matter the men, Mark Owen and Lawrence Baker, were held in Van Nuys jail while further investigation was being made by Forest Service law enforcement officers. The suspects were reported by the Federal men as having a dispute in the canyon along about the time the blaze was started.

Old Age Pension Club Here Surveys The Presidential Situation; Townsend Is Believed To Hold The Balance Of Power

By Rev. W. H. Hannaford

REPORTS OF the Chicago convention made up most of the program at the Townsend Club meeting on Monday evening. Newspapers were quite generous in their comments and several of these were read. One reporter gave the comment of a bartender in Chicago who said that men of his business might as well have gone on a vacation during the convention. Drinks were not called for at the hotels and very few "beers" were taken. Police officials reported not a call to quell any disorder or to put down any disturbance due in any way to the convention.

Several references were made to letters sent to President Roosevelt by clergymen, in response to his request for advice from them. If the President actually sees many of these letters he will have food for thought as he plans his campaign for re-election next year.

One minister, whose home is in Minneapolis, said he was in India last summer and spoke in Bombay on one occasion. After his address a native gentleman spoke to him and said, "Tell your President that when he has one row of cotton plowed under in Mississippi we plant two rows here in the Bombay district." More food for thought for any one who can see beyond the local situation and the immediate political effect.

Dr. Rex Tugwell hasn't gone where McGroarty sent word for him to go. Perhaps he thought Los Angeles has the place McGroarty had in mind. Any way he stopped off in L.A. and told his audience that "Class War" is in prospect next year. And Hamilton Fish says Borah is the most popular Republican at present while Roosevelt is waning in popularity everywhere. With 6,000,000 votes conceded to be swung as Dr. Townsend directs it looks as if either Congress will have to pass the McGroarty bill in January or the campaign next year will be worth the price of admission all right.

MISSOURIANS TO PICNIC

Missourians will hold their big annual fall picnic reunion under the auspices of the Missouri State Society in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, all day, Saturday, November 9th. The program will be in charge of President S. A. Seelman.

Violin And Piano Pupils In Recital

The first of a series of junior music recitals was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George B. Morgridge. Piano pupils of Mrs. Morgridge and violin pupils of Miss Elizabeth Morgridge participated. The program was presented by the following: Yvonne Jardine, Ruth Coit, Mary Jane Clatworthy, Jean Noshier, Teresa Keyes, Kimiko Shimizu, Patricia Andrews, Donald Keyes, Raymond Andrews, Costo Shimizu, Billy Adwell, Henry Brauman, Brian Dunne, Mary Jane Clatworthy gave an interesting talk on John Sebastian Bach. Following the program refreshments were served.

OBITUARIES

McKENZIE C. KARNOPP

Death came Sunday to 24-year-old year old McKenzie Carl Karnopp, who had distinguished himself in athletics while attending school in Pasadena and was taken ill some time ago while still a student. He died at his home at 46 North Lima street.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday by Dean Arnold G. Bode at Grant's Funeral Chapel, and burial took place at San Gabriel Cemetery. He was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and had lived in Sierra Madre for six years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Irene Karnopp, and a sister, Mrs. George A. Brown, of Evanston, Illinois.

FLORA McKUSICK

Mrs. Flora McKusick, 79, died Monday at her home at 43 Sierra Place. She had been a Sierra Madre resident since 1923 having been born in Ontario, Canada. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Grants, Rev. W. D. Ogg, former pastor of Bethany Church, being in charge. Interment was at Oddfellows Cemetery in Los Angeles.

Survivors are a son, Huntington McKusick, a daughter, Mrs. Maude A. Judson; and grandchildren, Mrs. Ralph B. Lamb, Fred Judson, Charles Judson, Herbert M. McKusick, Paul McKusick, Rosa McKusick, Mrs. Paul Tidie, Mrs. Mary Bachelor and Mildred McKusick.

RARE INSTRUMENT FOR YOUNG ARTIST

Friends of Miss Elizabeth Morgridge who were actively interested in her efforts last spring to secure a new violin will be glad to know that at last she has found one which just suits her requirements. It is a Petrus Guarnerius, a fine old Italian make about 150 years old.

MAKING OF THE BIBLE TO BE TOLD AT YPSC MEETING

The Congregational Young People's Society will meet at the church Sunday evening at the usual time. Miss Elizabeth Morgridge will be the leader and will present a pictorial history of "The Making of the Bible," which will be preceded by a song service which will be in charge of Miss Dorothy Walsworth.

GUILD TO MEET

St. Catherine's Guild will meet, Tuesday, Nov. 5th at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Miss Jean Woodward, 470 Ramona avenue.

City To Pay Tribute To Will Rogers

Local Bank Will Take Contributions For National Memorial

Sierra Madre came to be his steadfast friend in a homely way across the breakfast table. Then the townsfolk met him whenever he dropped around to the neighborhood picture show. Frequently he even came into their living rooms, talked friend to friend talk for a while. That's why every Sierra Madrean was so sincerely grieved when word came of Will Rogers' sudden death.

Such a thing was true not only here, but in every town, both large and small, all over the Nation. Everybody wanted to express his feeling in a practical way, so from hundreds of sources came the demand for a Will Rogers memorial. The result was the Memorial Commission, with headquarters in New York and branch offices in every city in the country.

Monday subscription of funds will start. November 4 is the 56th anniversary of Will Rogers' birth. To protect the public against promotional schemes, and various rackets which have inevitably been born of such an enterprise, contributions will be received in Sierra Madre either at the Savings Bank or at THE NEWS office.

Rupert Hughes, noted author and longtime friend of Rogers, is acting as State chairman for the memorial fund commission, and emphasizes the fact that every penny donated will go directly into the great National memorial fund. Expenses of gathering the fund are being born by the aviation industry—in keeping with the cowboy philosopher's love of flying, and the untold service he rendered to aviation.

THIS BUILDING CONSCIOUS COMMUNITY WILL TEACH ART OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR

Engineers And Experts To Instruct Builders And Householders

Of special interest to every Sierra Madre householder and prospective builder is a project just launched by Jack Hosford, city building inspector, for a series of evening classes in which a wide range of technical problems will be explained and simplified by qualified experts. The classes will be free and especially planned for adults. At the same time the aim will be to make each subject so clear that the non-technical member of a class may profit by the instruction as readily as one already with some knowledge of the problems involved. The subjects to be considered will include roofing, plumbing, electrical wiring, painting, cement work, heating, ventilation, and other related topics. It is the purpose of Mr. Hosford to make these classes of practical use even in the matter of the small repair jobs that are constantly turning up in the conduct of a home and which are so often the occasion to the home-owner of serious inconvenience and unnecessary expense.

Leaders in all the housing professions and trades will preside at the various classes, and the information they have to give will be conveyed by motion pictures, laboratory experiments and practical demonstrations rather than by formal lectures. All talks, in fact, will be informal so that those in attendance may feel free to ask any questions that may arise. Tentatively, it has been arranged to hold the classes each Monday night in the auditorium of the City Hall.

The one string attached to the proposal, Hosford explains, is the necessity of having the classes big enough to warrant the call that will have to be made on the time of the instructors.

"You wouldn't, now would you," says the sponsor of the movement, "like to have, say, one of the foremost engineers of Los Angeles come out here some night with a lot of apparatus, or a motion picture, and find, say, only five or six people on hand to show how much Sierra Madre appreciated him. It wouldn't be fair to him and it wouldn't be fair to Sierra Madre."

In order to find out in advance just how much of an attendance the town is likely to furnish, Hosford suggests that all those interested send in their names at once either to him personally or to the Sierra Madre News. A minimum attendance of 20 is desired.

Car Crashes Into Peach Tree And Two Pasadenaans Hurt

Veering off of a bump in the road, a light coupe driven by Bud Jencks, of 103 North Pasadena avenue in Pasadena, crashed into a peach tree on upper Lima street near the entrance to Bailey Canyon at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Miss Vivian Lee, of 2123 Scott avenue, Los Angeles, received cuts about the face and neck, and was hurried to St. Luke's Hospital by a passing motorist, Everett Hinojos.

Jencks suffered a bruised chest, caused by contact with the broken steering wheel. The car was badly bent, and the front wheels broken. The accident was reported at the local police station.

GEORGE TYREE WINS MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP

Six year-old George Tyree, of 140 South Hermosa street, has been awarded a music scholarship by the Pacific Institute of Music and Fine Art, it was announced yesterday. The honor was bestowed as the result of the outstanding musical ability displayed by young George.

IN YOUR GARDEN

PRODUCING A BLAZE OF COLOR BY LITTLE EFFORT

Bulbs are recommended for the leisurely gardener or for the one who is unable to spend a great deal of time in the garden. They probably produce a greater show of color with less effort than almost any other garden subject.

Generous dividends in larger blooms and longer stems will reward the gardener who prepares the bulb beds well, at planting time.

These simple pointers, of great importance in the planting of bulbs, should be kept in mind:

Ample drainage must always be provided. Bulbs should be planted as deep as one dore, according to the height and diameter.

A top mulch of half soil and half saturated peat moss will solve the problem of moisture.

SIMPLE TREATMENT FOR FINE GLADIOLUS BLOOMS

Gardeners who have dug their gladiolus bulbs and separated the bulbets from the corns, will do well to take the precaution of using naphthalene flakes. Scatter them among the corns at the rate of 1 ounce to 100 bulbs. Best results are obtained when the bulbs are covered with paper to help confine the fumes. The cover may be removed after several weeks.

Small lots of bulbs can be treated with naphthalene flakes by putting the right amount of flakes in with the bulbs, tied in a paper bag; however, the bag should be opened in about three weeks. Use the flakes after the bulbs have been thoroughly cured and before any of them sprout in storage.

The naphthalene treatment has been found very effective in the control of the gladiolus thrips. Some follow the very satisfactory process of dipping the gladiolus corns in a 2 to 4 per cent solution of lime sulphur at a temperature of 125 degrees F., for half a minute. This not only gives a complete cure of all stages of gladiolus thrips, but also kills any mealy bugs or mealy bug eggs which have accumulated during storage.

NEW TWIN-STEMMED SWEET PEA IS AN EARLY BLOOMER

There is a new pure white early flowering Spencer sweet pea. Instead of producing one stem at a node, it produces two and sometimes three perfect stems, each bearing three or four large flowers. The effect is most novel and no doubt will prove of great interest to alert gardeners in search of the new.

It is one of the earliest blooming sweet peas, commencing to flower three weeks before any other winter variety.

When the plants are only 12 inches high they begin to flower. When 2 feet high they commence to branch, producing freely the odd, twin-stemmed flowers.

AVOCADO GROWERS TO HAVE A FIELD DAY

For avocado growers all roads lead to Ventura County on Saturday, November 2nd, on the occasion of an Avocado Growers' Field Day, to be held under the auspices of the California Avocado Association, the Avocado Department of the Ventura County Farm Bureau, and the Agricultural Extension Service. The meeting will start at 10 a.m., in the Community Center, Oxnard.

A feature of the day's events will be a barbecue prepared by the Oxnard Chamber of Commerce. The day's program in addition to addresses by several avocado authorities will feature a field tour and program on production problems led by Vincent F. Blanchard, farm advisor for Ventura County.

Thrilling Race At Ascot Sunday When 40 Daredevils Meet

One of the greatest match races ever arranged for a Pacific Coast speedway will thrill some 10,000 spectators at Ascot next Sunday afternoon when the mighty Louie Meyer, great star of Indianapolis, meets one of the reigning sensations of dirt tracks, Al Gordon of Long Beach.

The match battle will serve as an added attraction on a harum-scarum program of sprints, which includes a 50-lap Indianapolis Cup race, helmet dash, and four eight-lap heats.

Bill White, new Ascot promoter, has revamped the Alhambra Boulevard course and is dedicating the track with one of the best attractions available.

In addition to Meyer and Gordon, such throttle stars as Rex Mays, Hal Cole, Ray Pixley, Frank Wearne, Ed Haddad and Bruce Denslow will face the flag of the starter during the afternoon. A group of some forty knights of the "roaring road" are scheduled to go postward back yard.

Famous Trail Inn Passes Into Hands Of New Owner Today

The Trail Inn, famous throughout Southern California for the past ten years for the delicious chicken and ravioli served by Mrs. Elizabeth Stoppel, known to her customers simply as "Lizzie," changed hands this week—but the Inn's policy remains the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keller, the new proprietors, are planning many improvements on the building itself, all designed for the comfort and convenience of the patrons.

Captivated by Sierra Madre's homey, cultural qualities, the Kellers bought the Inn on arriving here from Detroit, where they were noted for their old fashioned German beer gardens. He and his wife plan to serve special German dinners as an added feature of the already widely famed Mira Monte establishment. Mrs. Stoppel is staying with the Kellers until the first of the month, then it is her intention to retire to her Sierra Madre home and regain her failing health. She established her business here ten years ago last June 19, her birthday.

A.L.A. Activities

By Helen Lovejoy

AT A meeting of the A.L.A. Unit 297 it was decided our unit shall be hostess to the April President's meeting. A committee will be appointed to secure a location. President's district chairmen, and members of the hostess unit are in attendance.

In taking part in National Education Week we ask all to save one day during the period from November 11 to 17, and visit the school. It is more than a memorial to past achievement. It is dedicated to the future, and enlists the co-operation of every citizen in intelligent planning for tomorrow through the powerful instrument of universal education. The need of planning education and our National life is continuous. Once a year is not too often to think about our schools and their relation to our future. Let us see that our schools are teaching the fine and good points in our Constitution, and there will be no place in the hearts of our children for changes un-American.

County Council meets today with our unit represented by both delegates and alternates.

ARE WE READY?

They say it wasn't anyone's fault in particular when fire went raging over a 75-mile area in Los Angeles county last week to make ash heaps of dozens of homes, cause upwards of $9,000-000 damage, threaten the fast-moving Malibu Beach motion picture summer colony, and injure 300 fire fighters.

A high wind sweeping down from the Utah-Nevada plateau, a broken power line, an abundance of dry brush—these things were officially selected to bear the onus of blame. But out of the half dozen separate conflagrations you can safely bet your shirt that one, two, or four got their start from a smoldering cigarette butt, a soot-filled chimney, or a carelessly tossed match.

Even assuming, however, that the catastrophe might be loosely designated as what in legal language is called an "act of God," there is in it still a warning and a moral for every other community that would avoid wholesale destruction.

The answer is preparedness. We must be ready at all times for things that strike so suddenly and so devastatingly.

If a high wind whipped up a spark of fire in this community, would it carry sparks from your chimney on to your neighbor's roof? Or has your chimney been cleaned in the past six months?

Would a wind-whipped fire find fuel of dry grass or brush in your yard, to give it new fury and lead it into your home?

It might be a good idea for every man to ask himself these questions, now, today, when we still have fresh in our minds the calamitous effects uncontrolled fire can have.

You never know when disaster will strike. Are we ready?

How The Counties Of California Came By Their Names And What They Mean

Editor's Note: This is the fifth installment of the story prepared under the direction of Gov. Merriam from State records showing how the various counties of California acquired their names and the meaning of them.)

MODOC COUNTY was created February 17, 1874, and derived its name from a fierce tribe of Indians by that name, which means "the head of the river," and who lived at the headwaters of the Pit River.
General O. O. Howard, in an article in the St. Nicholas magazine for May, 1908, page 624, states that the Indian name of the tribe of which Modoc is a corruption is "Maklaks," and means "The People."

Famed for its hunting, fishing and scenic attractions, Modoc is noted for its fine strains of cattle and sheep. The county has 53,193 head of cattle and more than 125,000 sheep. Dairy products are increasing in importance. It is one of the few remaining sections of the State whose virgin timber resources remain practically untouched. It is estimated that 1,000,000 feet of lumber could be cut daily for 200 years, at the end of which time reforestation would have provided new growth for cutting.
During the gold rush to Calial, scintillant. Yet there was something wistful about it, too—something like a sigh, a sigh from Sierra Madre herself. For there is that about Sierra Madre that does remind you of a woman. She reminds you particularly of so many of her daughters—the superbly beautiful, the superbly good. And, like them, Sierra Madre also has about her that allure which is both earthly and divine. As such, naturally, she has attracted many lovers.

Mr. Addis, for all we know, is one of them.

But to say that all these lovers will eventually wind up by presented her with, let us say, a whisker instead of a mustache, to put it mildly, hardly fair.
Hardly fair to the new-comers in the town—those of us who are, so to speak, still in the fervor of courtship.

Mr. Addis, himself a poet, would be, I am certain, the first to admit that not all lovers are like that. Laura had her Petrarch, Heloise her Abelard, Beatrice had her Dante. Now all that Sierra Madre may have been waiting for—a candle in her window all these years—is just one such lover. Just one who would be enough.
And to she'll make him the envy not only of those depot-sitting cynics, but of kings. Who knows?
Perhaps the bridegroom cometh.
Even now, unheeded, he may be here. In any case, I sign myself
AN ASPIRANT.

TAKING A TRIP WITH AN ARTIST'S EYES

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:
Sir: To at least one faithful reader of your excellent paper the article by Alfred James Dewey in your number of October 25, was sheer delight. It gave him the thrill of seeing the world through the eyes of the artist himself, a world transfigured—richly detailed yet so vast, so fresh and luscious. Then, too, Mr. Dewey handled his words and narrative as only the master painter might handle his brush. Each swift stroke was so graphic, colorful and supremely right. Until it almost seems all writers should begin by learning to paint. But this began as a word of thanks, not a critique, and please accept it as such.

THE SIERRA MADRE NEWS

PEN SLANTS

By John Copeland

THESE LITTLE tales of the pure and simple (purely Sierra Madran, and simply facts!) stand on their own feet, so no explanation is needed other than to remark the obvious need for censoring a few names...

"Well," quips one of the lesser local (nitty) wits to John Kelleher, a descendant of the Dublin dynasty, "when you going to join the Orangemen's brigade in Ethiopia?"

"One more crack like that," Kelleher mutters, "and you'll be wishing Benito had conscripted you for lion hunting."

A young lady citizen, who happens to be nearby, hears only enough of this to want to hear more. What's that about Orangemen, she asks? She is seriously informed that Mr. Kelleher is an Orangeman.

"How too divine," she gushes,
"and where is his ranch...?"

you for twenty years anyway?"
"Well!" hotly retorts the redhead, "and who's been working for two months?"

Ordinarily we don't use this space for ballyhoo purposes, but we think you'd like to hear about it when there's something really worth ballyhooing.

You all know "Lizzie." Ever since she came here in June ten years ago and started the Trail Inn at the foot of Mt. Wilson trail she has been an institution all over this part of the State.

Folks came all the way from Long Beach and Santa Barbara to lick their chops over her swell ravioli dinners. Maybe because of that old "prophet without honor" truism, "Lizzie" never pulled her greatest trade from Sierra Madre —albeit the select few were constant devotees of the old Trail Inn...

Well, Lizzie has had to call it a day. She isn't feeling so well, and a front porch rocking chair looks pretty good to her for awhile. When she first said goodbye, we figured that she and the Inn were going out together. But not so.

Joe Keller is a good natured German, who came out here from Detroit wanting to settle down in a small town where he could open up something a little different in the restaurant way.
Mrs. Keller's cooking was right there to back up that determination—and Lizzie's ready-made reputation added the final touch!

So now we have right here in Sierra Madre the most atmospheric, German type eating place you could find any place—unusual German dishes in addition to the chicken and ravioli dinners, everything right to make you feel at home.

Don't think we're just springing some lifeless publicity—if Olvera street and Laguna, and Frisco and the rest of 'em can brag about the quaint atmosphere of their distinctive restaurants, we guess it's okay for us to...

Are you a sissy? If you aren't, then stop worrying about getting bit by a black widow spider, because a noted spider expert sez only the very aged, the very young or the very weak are in any danger from the bite of the insect. And even a sissy can pour on a little permanganate of potash and be pretty well off, so there.

UCLA to take their elder brother tomorrow afternoon by two touchdowns... Notre Dame to win easily...

CARROT WALNUT LOAF
is a favorite dish with Mrs. Henrietta E. Isaacs of 333 Sturtevant Road. She passes on the recipe to her neighbors who have been charmed by its excellence.

It follows:

1 1/2 cups ground carrots
1 cup ground walnuts
1/4 cup milk
2 eggs (beaten slightly)
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter
Salt and pepper to taste

Simmer carrots in very little water until tender and let cool. Then add walnuts, eggs and other ingredients. Shape into loaf, place in pan and bake for half an hour.

Real Social Security Is Started Here

The State's allowance to the aged to at least $50 and that they had been led to believe the Congress would provide an additional amount. Congress later said that Congress would provide at least $15 in addition to the State's allowance, so it voted $35 to be paid by the State, excepting the National security act would make the amount collectable $50. Instead the $15 voted by Congress was towards reimbursing the State. This recognition of the necessities of the aged Martin characterized as "niggardly and offensive."

The third State social security measure with which Mr. Martin was much pleased and which he helped battle through the Assembly, was the bill providing funds for co-operative organizations with existing projects, which will permit them to carry on and keep their members self dependent until they are drawn back into general production.

"Frankly, I was opposed," Mr. Martin said, "to unreasonable appropriations to unorganized groups that would have permitted them to go out and purchase or gamble in the acquisition of large tracts of land or plants and of machinery. But I did and do believe that they are organized and have definite projects, they should be encouraged."

The bill that was finally adopted, he said, would result in approximately $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 of State and Federal funds coming into the hands of such established organizations and result in untold good to members of the organizations as well as to the taxpayers and society generally.

The establishment of a State prison in Southern California for "reclaimable prisoners" Martin considered one of his outstanding accomplishments as an Assemblyman. He told of the deplorably overcrowded condition of the State's penal and insane institutions which he witnessed on a tour of them as chairman of an Assembly committee to inquire into their condition. His audience was visibly moved at the conditions he gave a graphic picture of.

"This new prison when established," said Martin, "will take at least 2,000 men out of the frightfully overcrowded San Quentin and Folsom prisons, where young men, not criminals at heart by any means, are crowded into cells with potential murderers and the most hardened criminals of the land. Through no fault of the management, these institutions are literally 'schools for crime'."

The proposed new prison he said, would be for the confinement of first offenders and persons it was reasonable to expect could be reclaimed to society as useful citizens. The creative act stipulates that it must be located on fertile soil where there is an abundance of water for agricultural purposes and that instead of being confined in narrow, overcrowded cells, the inmates shall be employed in the growing of food supplies for their own and other State institutions, so that the men shall be employed in the open air where both their bodies and their minds may be improved.

Martin voiced the need for a new and simplified State tax system to take the place of "the present inequitable crazy quilt plan," found much fault with the legislative system at Sacramento and complained of the mounting cost of government with negligible efforts to reduce operating costs and feverish efforts to locate new sources of revenue.

Perley P. Sheehan, new president of the Forum, assigned L. R. Goshorn to introduce Mr. Martin. He was presented as father of the mortgage moratorium law of 1933, the law that increased the penalty for kidnapping to the death penalty where the victim suffers bodily injury, author of moratorium for delinquent taxables and as father of the law by the last Legislature that more than doubled the State appropriations for highway improvements in Los Angeles and other Southern counties.

MAN-YEAR COST IS ROSS FIELD SNAG

Preliminary work of preparing the ground at Ross Field for the county recreation park project may commence within two weeks, according to James K. Reid, superintendent of recreation camps and playgrounds. Some delay has been occasioned because of Washington's objection to disproportionate man-year costs, but this matter has been cleared by dividing the project into several parts—first, the planning and landscaping of the grounds; second, minor installation work; third, major improvements such as play equipment and fields; and last, necessary community houses, picnic stoves, etc.

DOUBLE BILL AT THE RAYMOND THEATRE

Beginning today and running through tomorrow, the Raymond Theatre in Pasadena will present Boris Karloff in "Bride of Frankenstein." Also on the same bill is Gene Stratton Porter's lovable characterization "Laddie" in which Gloria Stewart plays the lead. A headline vaudeville, a color cartoon and a spook stage show are offered to finish up the week.

STATE OFFICIAL ALARMED AT PROSPECT OF SINGLE TAX LAW AND SALES TAX REPEAL

Would Plunge State Finances Into Chaos—Bring On Tax Strike, Says Stewart

(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

CALIFORNIA common property taxpayers, if they are vigilant in their own defense, and in guarding against chaotic conditions in State finance, will take definite and organized action to prevent possible enactment of the "single tax" act which will be submitted to the voters at the next general election.

That positive declaration comes from Fred E. Stewart, member of the State Board of Equalization and co-author of the Riley-Stewart Tax Relief Program, which was adopted two years ago to ease the burden on local taxpayers and shift the burden of school costs from the counties to the State.

California agriculture, Stewart said, would be seriously discriminated against, if the "single tax" measure, with its sales tax repeal proviso, was adopted, and both the farmer and the home-owner would be forced to carry an exorbitant tax load which in many instances would result in tax confiscation of their properties.

Calling on representatives of common property taxpayers to organize to fight the "single tax" proposal, Stewart said: "The so-called 'single-tax' is based on the old and now thoroughly discredited theory that property should bear the brunt of the tax burden. This theory, in turn, was based on the faulty premise—utterly unsound under present conditions—that a man's property holdings were an accurate index of his wealth. The absurdity of offering such a tax proposal is clearly apparent when it is understood that many of our wealthiest men and richest corporations have little or no property today, but have their money in stocks and bonds."

The Board of Equalization

"Regardless of any frills or vote-catching amendments which may have been tacked on to the 'single tax' proposal to be submitted to California voters, it is fundamentally wrong and dangerous."

Two Great Films at the Lyric Theatre

Opening today, and continuing for five days "Barbary Coast" comes to the Lyric Theatre in Monrovia. This picture is with Miriam Hopkins playing the part of a hard-boiled dame making a trip round the Horn to marry a successful gold miner, only to discover on landing in a heavy fog that her intended husband is dead—and his fortune as quickly lost as won.

Appearing on the same bill is "Broadway Melody of 1936," Jack Benny, cast as a menace of the peace, plays the part of a key-hole newspaper columnist, while Miss Eleanor Powell, a tall and rangy girl with the eloquent rhythms of a young race horse, dances with tireless abandon. Not only can she dance, but she sings a bit and gives a splendid impersonation of Hepburn with sly suggestions of Garbo and Delrich. Buddy Ebsen and his sister Vera contribute some delightful spontaneous dancing. Robert Wildhack as the snorer introduces an entirely new brand of comic relief. Roy Del Ruth directed the picture and a capacity house is expected.

START CANDLELIGHT CONCERT SERIES

The Mills Chamber Music Ensemble is presenting the first of a series of three candlelight concerts in the Monrovia studio of Miss Clara Ingham on next Sunday afternoon at 4:30. The program consists of a quintet by Mozart, the Death and Maiden quartet by Schubert, and the violin and piano sonata by John Alden Carpenter. The latter will be performed by Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, who is first violin in the group, and Harlow John Mills.

FEED AND FUEL HOUSE HAS RAPID GROWTH

Hall T. Simpson started his "House of Service" seven years ago at his present location, 3422 East Colorado street, in Pasadena, with seven sacks of grain. Today he is the largest feed and fuel distributor in the whole San Gabriel Valley and employs 15 persons. He also boasts of the largest fuel yard of its kind, carrying 15 varieties of wood all seasoned for a year and longer. Mr. Simpson also is handling a complete line of garden supplies, pet and bird and chicken feed and remedies.

Install Officers Of The Japanese C.E. Society On Sunday

INSTALLATION of officers of the Nipponese C. E. society for the ensuing six months term will take place in the society's meeting on Sunday evening.

Michi Nomura, recently elected president will succeed Sam Hohri. He will be assisted by Kimiko Shimizu, vice-president; Toshiko Aisawa, secretary; Sho Nomura, treasurer; Saeko Hohri, lookout director; Shiz Kunihiro, prayer-meeting chairman; Takuno Hohri, missionary chairman; Sam Hohri, social chairman. Sunday there is also a consecration service, so all members are expected to respond to the roll call with a verse of Scripture. Janet Murray is leading the discussion in the Young People's meeting with the topic "What Christ Means to Me."

There are a couple of Halloween parties tonight. The Nipponese society in Bethany rotunda and the Young Peoples' society at the home of Margaret Montgomery, in Arcadia. Both are masquerade and are to begin at 7:45.

Monday brings another of the meetings at the rescue mission in Pasadena. Each first Monday of the month the local Endeavorers go over to the South Raymond hall to conduct the one-hour service.

Forum Will Hear A National Leader Of Co-operatives

Homer Debo, a leading member of the California Co-operative Council, will address the Sierra Madre Forum next Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the City Hall. By an inadvertence it was announced that Bruce Johnson, another prominent figure in the co-operative movement now very much to the front both in Europe and America, would appear, but he is slated for a future date at the local forum.

Mr. Debo is not only an eloquent speaker but his long association with co-operative organizations throughout the West has rendered him singularly well informed. In accordance with present plans of the Forum the speech will in no sense be a political utterance but will deal singly with the economic trends that so closely effects the lives of everyone.

As usual, the speaker of the evening will be ready to answer any questions connected with the subject. Many such questions of vital interest to all Sierra Madreans are bound to come up and the public is urged to take advantage of the opportunity. The meeting will be called to order at 7:45.

Frost Protection By Citrus Growers Will Be Discussed

The Agriculture Extension Service, in cooperation with the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau and the Fruit-Frost Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is conducting a series of meetings on orchard heating and frost protection.

Floyd D. Young, meteorologist of the Fruit-Frost service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Warren R. Schoonover, Citrus Extension Specialist of the University of California, are the two principal speakers.

The meeting nearest Sierra Madre is to be held Friday, November 8, 7:30 p.m., in Covina Grammar school, southwest corner Citrus and Covina avenues, Covina, where Floyd D. Young will speak.

BIG SCREEN HITS AT ARCADIA'S THEATRE

Three of filmland's most brilliant stars appear in the spectacular production, "China Seas" which opens today for a four-day run at Gillette's Arcadia Theatre. The stars are Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery, together again for the first time in five years. And it is a stirring story of adventure and romance, a story that teems with lusty action and abounds with strange emotional qualities that bring them together. The locale is, perhaps, the strangest and most fascinating yet seen on the screen; the wild southeast coast of China, last stronghold of 20th Century pirates.

Appearing on the same bill is Joe E. Brown in "Bright Lights" a musical comedy film loaded with gags, girls, roars and rhythm. Patricia Ellis, and Ann Dvorak are in support.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, "We're In The Money," is a rough and ready comedy built for laughing purposes. Joan Blondell, and Glenda Farrell are in the leading roles. "Hot Tip," a cartoon, and travelogue, complete the bill.

Children Parade In Wierd Garb At Hallowe'en Party

Hallowe'en was a thoughtless old witch, riding abroom into Sierra Madre on Thursday night. Whatever pranks she played came at too late an hour last night for the telling here, alack!

But most of the town's kids got a chance to work off some of their steam yesterday afternoon at the grammar school. Everyone was in costume all day, and between 2 and 3 o'clock a parade was staged around the school grounds. Last year's custom of parading down the streets of the business section was abandoned. Hallowe'en parties were held in every class room, and the instructors and room mothers were hostesses.

The most surprising part of the Hallowe'en situation lies in the fact that only one complaint was registered with police Wednesday night—and usually the night before the big night sees about as many pranksters at work on the night itself. Some girls, dressed like boys, were discovered soaping windows of a car parked on a side street, and a householder phoned headquarters thinking more serious mischief was afoot.

Children Offered Free Music Lessons By Bard's Theatre

Undertaking the unusual, as is the custom of Bard's Colorado Theatre, they are offering free music lessons to Sierra Madre children. This offer has been made possible through the cooperation of a Pasadena academy of music. Children who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity may do so by applying at the box office of the theatre Saturday morning at 11:30. Those wishing to study the violin are requested to bring their own instruments.

Commencing today and continuing until Monday, the Colorado Theatre in Pasadena, is featuring Dick Powell and Joan Blondell in "Broadway Gondolier." On the same bill is "The Farmer Takes a Wife," a clever comedy with Henry Fonda and Janet Gaynor playing the leading roles. Saturday night Manny Nathan's preview vaudeville and fun show is on the state.

LOCAL STORE AGENT FOR COLEMAN HEATERS

The Sierra Madre Hardware Company has been appointed exclusive agent for the Coleman natural gas burning floor furnace. There will be a demonstrator at the store during the week, to explain fully the advantages of this type furnace and the management invites your inspection of this economical heating system without obligation on your part.

New Relief Agency Is Headed By Legg

Supervisor Herbert C. Legg Monday was named chairman of the California Citizens' Committee, a new organization formed under direction of State Relief Administrator Frank Y. McLaughlin for the purpose of discovering ways and means of eliminating duplicate and parallel charity agencies. Legg already has presented to the California Relief Commission a report urging the Federal government to cease handling direct relief cases, and to turn the money back to the counties.

SCREEN AQUEDUCT WORKS AT ARCADIA

Unusual shots filmed deep in the giant tunnels of the Metropolitan Water District's aqueduct system, as well as the first motion pictures to be taken of construction operations on Parker Dam, are included in the spectacular film being screened at the Arcadia theatre tonight and tomorrow night. The aqueduct job now in progress in the heart of the great desert region east of here, is the world's largest construction project.

ARCADIA MASONS TO HOLD MEETINGS HERE

Pending construction of a new lodge building in Arcadia, members of the Arcadia Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star chapter have arranged with the local lodge for use of the Sierra Madre Masonic Hall, where they will hold future meetings.

Eastern Star meeting will be held on the first and third Thursday nights of each month.

Fire Conscious Folks Alarmed By Grid Rally Blaze

Alarmed Sierra Madreans were fearful for a short while Saturday night that a dangerous brush fire had broken out along the foothills in the eastern part of the city—but the blaze was caused by a breeze fanning life into supposedly dead embers on the city spreading grounds brush pile.

Local fire fighters, headed by Fred LaLone, took every precaution against the fire's spreading, and the Arcadia fire department also lent a hand.

Still another fire scare came Thursday night when the Forest Department phoned in to say that a lookout had reported a fire in the district. The call was backed up by a second call from a frightened Sierra Madrean. Fire Chief W. D. Richards hurriedly contacted Monrovia headquarters and discovered that Monrovia High School was holding a football bonfire rally!

FLOOR FURNACE

HOME makers everywhere are delighted with their Coleman Floor Furnace! It warms every nook and corner ... takes the cold air off the floor ... no cold floors. And it's so clean ... no smoke, soot, dust or dirt ... and no sweated walls. Gives a complete change of thoroughly warmed air on an average of three times an hour.
Costs surprisingly little for fuel.

Visit our store and let us explain this newest idea in air conditioning your home for wintertime comfort. The most efficient of its kind on the market.

This HARVEST TIME SALE brings a bumper crop of values to our customers. Quality foods of all varieties are offered at prices that spell s-a-v-i-n-g-s on every purchase. While supplies are at their finest, pumpkins just right for pies, with cranberries, mince meat and other fall delicacies arriving on the market, the housewife's problem of planning different menus is much simpler. Plan a real FALL menu with the "harvest time" items that you'll find on the produce stands and in the grocery and meat departments of our nearest store.

If you have not yet made the 30-day test on our low prices, now is a good time to start. Make all of your food purchases at one of our stores for a whole month. Compare total costs and see how much you save!
